

Clark County Utilities is performing sewer cleaning maintenance on the sanitary sewers in your neighborhood using a high pressure sewer cleaning machine.

Periodically, the pressure from sewer cleaning operations can cause water to "blowback" through home fixtures, such as toilets and floor drains. Obstructions or partial obstructions in a home's vent stack will increase the likelihood of blowback occurring.

To keep blowback water contained and reduce possible damage to your home:

- keep toilets flushed, drape a towel over the toilet rim and close the lid and seat onto the towel; and
- cover basement floor drains.

Please contact our office to report any blowback occurrence. Thank you for your help.
